TIME TO HIT THE DANCE FLOOR

Reginald's Revenge

Instructions

In a world where manatees are persecuted by careless fishing boat drivers, one sea cow will rise above all others to defend his family's honor. Meet Reginald, a proud individual of the once great manatee civilization. Hear Reginald, as he speeds through the water at an average of 6.5 kilometers an hour. See Reginald, as he takes (harpoon related) vengeance on others who angered the wrong aquatic mammal.

Haworth.Winnestaffer®

Regie's Story:

Reginald is a manatee who has just spent the day eating sea foliage, swimming on his back, and just generally minding his own business like any other occasion. He returns to the family nesting ground to find everyone severely injured, long, fresh gashes riddle their backs and flippers. The sight desensitizes him until he witnesses what lied ahead. Not too far off, Reginald spies a beat-up fishing boat hauling its cargo away from the horrific scene, traces of his relative's blood still clinging to the stern. "That's it!" the flustered sea cow cries. He digs underneath the sand and uncovers his trusty harpoon gun: The Solution. "Things just got personal!" his words echoing leagues away. Without another word, Reginald shoots of in the direction of the boat.

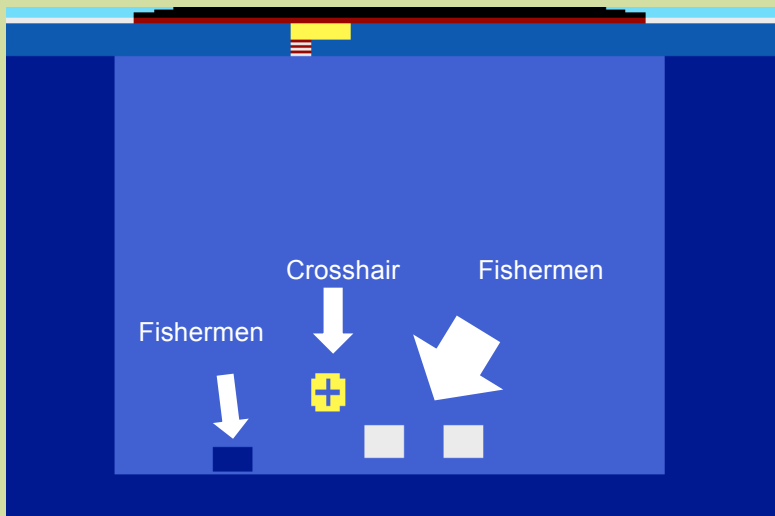

Prepare for trouble…

About the Author:
Connor Winnestaffer

Connor is a computer science major (sophomore) at Miami University. He aspires to one day make games as a career or at the very least, a full-fledged hobby. Even in life, he sees every challenge to be a game worth winning. His ambitions are centered on generating products and solutions that result in other people's happiness. Connor is an obsessive insomniac that loves to tackle multistep problems through the wee hours of the morning. So long as he can take pride in his work, willpower (mixed with cafine) will generate a solution. He believes that passion can drive any individual to complete tasks that others might find herculean.

Playing phase two…

Reginald has finally caught up with the fishing boat and successfully punctured the haul with his amazing weight and speed. Now the fishermen, frightened and confused, are abandoning ship. Take aim with The Solution to finish the job our sea cow friend started. To do so, position the crosshair over the seamen using the joystick directional input and press the fire button.

Burt Haworth

Burt is a Computer Science Senior at Miami University. Taking Introduction to Atari Programming fulfilled a promise he made to his wealthy but mysterious long lost uncle on his deathbed. It also was his final graduation requirement, quite a handy coincidence. In his free time, Burt enjoys exploring the possibility of sustaining life on caffeine alone and deep, spiritual sleep deprivation induced hallucinations.
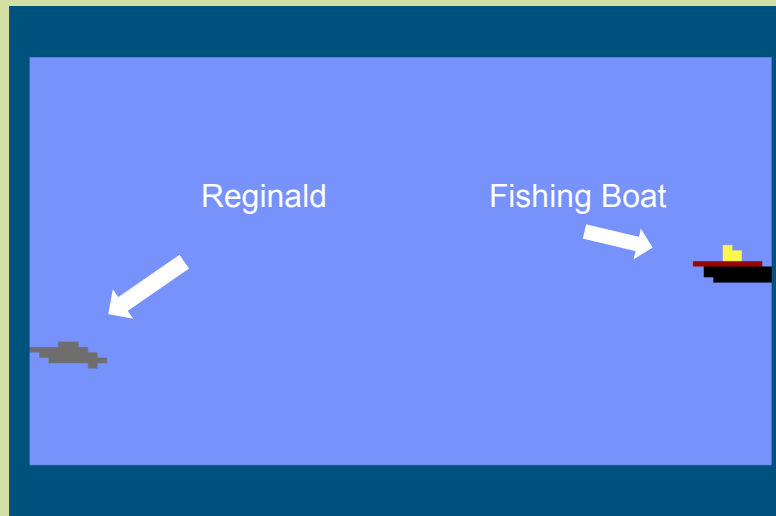

Burt's Tips for Reginald's Revenge: Don't die bro.

Special Thanks to Keith Rankin, Miami University 2011 graduate, for the cover art.

About The Game:

Playing phase one…

Our aquatic friend is in hot pursuit of the fiendish vessel. You should use the joystick to guide Reginald to the path in line with the fishing boat. To do so, steer the angry manatee with the up and down directions on the controller. Once Regie has a clear shot, press the fire button to have him zoom forward and ram the water craft.

Reginald   Fishing Boat

How to win…

As you continue to take down more fishermen, the water located at the bottom of the screen will continue to get redder and redder. Once it turns to the brightest shade of red, you win. This is indicated by the screen turning GREEN. However, if too many sailors are missed then the sea will slowly turn blue. If it becomes a solid blue, its game over and you have lost. This is indicated by the screen turning BROWN.